Reflection

Wherever we stand in the midst of the Christian world, we are all preparing or refocusing our thoughts to the events that lead up to Easter; the steadfast journey, the teachings about living without the physical presence, the upper room and the redefining of the symbols, the rigged trials, the walk to Golgotha and ultimately to stand with the women at an empty tomb... wondering!

For many, this period called Lent, is the preparation of the believer for Easter through prayer, doing penance, repentance of sins, almsgiving, and self-denial. ...For others it's a commitment to fasting, or giving up certain luxuries in order to replicate the sacrifice of Jesus Christ...

However we spend these days, the prayer of the Council is that each is again touched by the wonder, mystery and Grace that this most Holy of seasons evokes and commit ourselves to again being a follower of the one called Christ.

- Ian

On Friday March 1st some fifteen senior leaders of Churches from across Victoria gathered at Bishopscourt in Melbourne to welcome Archbishop Comensoli.

The Commission for Children and Young People

From 1 January 2018, religious and faith-based organisations have been required to comply with the Reportable Conduct Scheme and respond to allegations of reportable conduct made against their workers and volunteers, by investigating those allegations and reporting to the Commission for Children and Young People.

Additionally, from 1 January 2017, religious organisations that provide services for children have been required to comply with the Child Safe Standards. These standards aim to drive cultural change in organisations so that protecting children from abuse is embedded in everyday thinking and practice. The standards are compulsory but not prescriptive. This allows religious organisations flexibility in how they implement the standards to meet the requirements.

The Commission for Children and Young People, in collaboration with the Faith Communities Council of Victoria, has produced a short, easy to follow booklet to familiarise faith communities and religious organisations with their obligations under the Reportable Conduct Scheme.

If you are part of a religious and faith-based organisation that is required by law to be compliant with the Reportable Conduct Scheme, this booklet is for you. It has been prepared with Culturally and Linguistically Diverse organisations in mind to assist them with implementation of the Reportable Conduct Scheme.

To download a copy go to: <https://ccyp.vic.gov.au/child-safety/resources/guides-and-information-sheets> (select guidance for religious organisations on the Reportable Conduct Scheme)

To register for free information sessions offered by the Commission for Children and Young People on Child Safe Standards and the Reportable Conduct Scheme go to: <https://ccyp.vic.gov.au/child-safety/resources/information-sessions>

The Victorian Council of Churches through its Executive Officer, Rev Ian Smith, played a major role in the development, writing and delivery of this document. The VCC recommends all churches and church agencies familiarise themselves with their obligations under the Legislation.

Dignity not Destitution: Changes to Support Services for People Seeking Asylum

The foundational principle of the campaign Dignity NOT Destitution is the belief that no person lawfully residing in Australia should be forced into destitution through the removal of access to financial and housing supports.

Up to 12,000 people seeking asylum in Australia may be at risk of losing core services and financial support due to Government changes in the Status Resolution Support Services (SRSS). Charities are already struggling to support destitute asylum seekers, but this level of destitution will be unprecedented.

Read about why this is a deep concern for people seeking asylum as well as Churches and Charities. You CAN take action to support.

2019 International Year of Indigenous Languages

Over 250 Indigenous Australian language groups covered the continent at the time of European settlement in 1788. Today only around 120 of those languages are still spoken and many are at risk of being lost as Elders pass away.

Indigenous languages matter for social, economic and political development, peaceful coexistence and reconciliation in our societies.

The United Nations has declared 2019 the Year of Indigenous Languages in order to encourage urgent action to preserve, revitalise and promote them. SPC FORUM WITH SR PAT FOX: INCREASING RESISTANCE TO CHURCH & SOCIAL JUSTICE MOVEMENTS IN THE PHILIPPINES

Tuesday 5 March 7:30-9pm

Yarra Theological Union Study Centre
34 Bedford Street Box Hill

Light refreshments served at 9pm
Admission free. Donations welcome.

Sr Pat Fox grew up in Box Hill, and joined the Sisters of Sion in 1969. She began by working with street kids and women in housing commission flats. After studying law in the early 1980s, she worked in legal aid centres in Victoria, before volunteering for the Philippines in 1990. There, she worked in rural areas, and was later elected National Coordinator of the Rural Missionaries of the Philippines. More recently, she has worked with an Agricultural Workers Union.

Her support for people struggling for human rights and social justice antagonised powerful figures in the Philippines, and she was forced by President Duterte to leave in November 2018.

Peace Education Symposium

Teaching the Theology and Practice of nonviolence

Wednesday 14th to Friday 16th August 2019
Melbourne

“To reach peace, teach peace”
Pope John Paul II (1st Jan 1979)

“To be true followers of Jesus today also includes embracing his teaching about nonviolence”
Pope Francis (1st Jan 2017)

“Nonviolence is the answer to the crucial political and moral questions of our time: the need for [humanity] to overcome oppression and violence without resorting to oppression and violence”
Martin Luther King Jr.

Purpose of the Gathering

“promote and provide gospel-based Peace and Nonviolence resources to all Christian educational systems and secondary schools in Australia and New Zealand by 2021”

At this gathering participants will be invited to...

- learn about peace and nonviolence education
- reflect on how the Gospel inspires the work for nonviolence
- network with other educators/teachers
- explore and share resources and experiences to assist with embedding nonviolence principles in curriculum and practice
- contribute to the overall purpose described above

Background

During 2018 a group of keen educators and peace-practitioners from Australia and New Zealand, mainly from the Anglican and Catholic traditions, met to discuss, develop resources and teach the ‘theology and practice of peace and nonviolence’ in Christian schools. This included the development of a pilot senior-school Religious Education unit by the Anglican Schools Commission (WA) and the incorporation of nonviolence principles, and content, in a number of Catholic education systems and schools.

The feedback from students and staff has been very positive, with teachers observing the helpful holistic nature of the material, which can engage students at intellectual/theological, spiritual/prayerful, and practical (nonviolent peacemaking) levels.

The Gathering

Wednesday 14th August (9am – 4.30pm) – a professional learning day to...

- explore the theological principles and Gospel-based practices that underpin the teaching of nonviolence and peace
- identify and reflect on connections between the inner (life) and the outer (practices) of nonviolence
- learn a range of introductory skills in nonviolent conflict transformation
- consider how to integrate peace education within their teaching roles

This day can be missed if a participant did it on another occasion. This day can also be done as a 'stand-alone' for teachers who would like to know more about Jesus and Nonviolence, but who cannot attend the full three-day gathering.

Thursday 15th August (9am – 4.30pm) – a day of sharing ideas, resources and stories from teachers/practitioners who have been experimenting with the curriculum resources during 2018. This is likely to include content/resource sharing on:

- the Theology of Nonviolence, particularly focussing on the work of Rene Girard and his other Christian interpreters
- the Practice of Prayer as a way of supporting nonviolent peace-making
- stories about how students are beginning to engage in practical ways

Friday 16th August (9am to 2pm) – A self-organising Open Space day for participants to engage with what has been emerging during the preceding two days, share resources, and plan practical next steps in their respective contexts.

Location:

St Joseph's Conference Centre, Edmund Rice Education Australia, Richmond (Melbourne)

Earth@Peace: Help make our world a little safer | StartSomeGood

startsomegood.com Humanity and the Earth's other species are under threat as never before. Earth@Peace is a unique project that will inspire and empower new ways of approaching the future.

I know some of you have indicated you're planning to make a contribution, and others have not yet had a chance to look at the project in any detail. And there's something I should have explained a more clearly in my early email. Funds raised through this appeal will be used mainly to offer scholarships to enable Indigenous Australians and Pacific Islanders (but also students and other young people) to participate in the project, including the landmark Conference in April next year.

You may ask: Why Indigenous Australians? Because it is they who have suffered so horribly - and are still suffering today - from the devastating effects of nuclear testing which we as a nation inflicted on them on the very land from which they were dispossessed. Similarly with Pacific Islanders who have borne the brunt of US, UK and French nuclear tests in the Pacific.

Why student and young people? Because they are our future.

So, please do what you can: whatever contribution you can make, large or small, and importantly a word with friends, family members, colleagues, and members of your communities and networks. You never know, a well chosen word here or there can often open new doors.

In sincere appreciation of the support you've given in the past and continue to give.
